

Q&A SESSION

Ask Bob - with Procurement Law Expert ROBERT C. WORTHINGTON, LLB

Bob Worthington has helped your organization rise to the legal challenges inherent in purchasing, contracting and competitive bidding. Now, your staff knows how to identify and avoid the legal risk inherent in the supply chain process. But the day-to-day management of projects, contracts and procurement can present new challenges that need to be met head-on: with up-to-date information and expert guidance. This new full-day Question and Answer format gives your team the opportunity to ask questions and get answers. Just choose your topic from the list below and get ready to arm your team with increased legal knowledge. With Bob's straight talk and straight answers, you'll be even more protected from legal risk! We encourage your legal counsel, management team and directors to be in attendance. Remember, an ounce of training is worth a ton of litigation.

To be eligible for a Q & A session on the listed topics, all team members must have been trained by Bob in the selected seminar area in the past two years. To qualify, you may opt for a 1/2 day update and 1/2 day Q & A session. Please visit the links below for info on each topic area. Attendees must be familiar with all topics listed in the Table of Contents at the Outline link to meet the criteria for participation. Got a question? Ask Bob.
